

HIGH SCHOOL GYMNASIUM THIS SUMMER PRACTICALLY ASSURED

Spurred on by Talks and High Geared Enthusiasm, Men at Community Banquet Pledge $17,500

$25,000 HAS TO BE RAISED

With This Sum Loaned by Citizens of Community, $70,000 Building Can be Constructed

MONEY TO BEAR NO INTEREST

Tribute Paid to Coach Swain, Members of High School Squad and Parents of The Boys

Spurred on by talks and high geared enthusiasm, a new $70,000 gymnasium for Rushville was practically assured Friday night at the Community banquet held in honor of the basketball team, and $17,500 of a guaranteed quota of $25,000 was raised in less than an hour.

The balance of $7,500 will be raised the first of next week by the committee, as there are many prospects who have not been approached for a loan, and there is little doubt but what the new gymnasium for the Rushville high school will be built this summer, ready for the opening game in November.

The banquet was held in the basement of the Christian church, and 200 persons attended, paying tribute to the basketball squad and coach John Swain, the fathers and mothers of the boys and other invited guests.

John A. Titworth presided as chairman of the meeting, and had charge of the program that followed the banquet, served by the Pastor's Aid Society of the church. Mr. Titworth rang the bell that was used years ago by Prof. David Graham, founder of the city school system, when he used to stand on the steps of the school, and summon the pupils into the building.

The Rev. Gibson Wilson offered prayer, and the high school orchestra played several selections. After the banquet, Dr. J. C. Sexton delivered a toast on the appreciation of the alumni. It has been 50 years since he graduated from high school, he said, and even when he attended school, the athletic sports were censured by a great many people who thought that the boys and girls were wasting too much time, and should be spending more time on

TWO BARNS, 8 HORSES, 4 COWS BURN IN FIRE

Early Morning Blaze Causes Loss of About $5,000 on Homer Nash Farm North of Rushville

GRAIN, WAGONS DESTROYED

A horse barn and a cow barn, eight head of horses, four cows, implements and hay and grain were destroyed by fire early today in a fire on the Homer Nash farm, in Union township north of Rushville.

The cause of the fire was not determined because both buildings were in flames and beyond saving when the fire was discovered about four o'clock this morning by the tenant living on the farm. By the time he had summoned neighbors, the buildings and contents were in ruins.

Mr. Nash estimated the loss at $5,000. He carried $3,000 insurance in the Rush County Farmers Insurance company. He was confined by illness to the home of his brother-in-law, Voorhees Cavit, 828 North Main, and was not at home when the fire occurred, and Mrs. Nash and daughter Naomi were in Indianapolis, where Miss Nash is a member of the "Junior Legislature" as a representative from Rush county.

In addition to the livestock burning, Mr. Nash also lost two farm wagons, from eight to ten tons of hay and two hundred bushels of rye. The loss was particularly severe at this time, when farmers are beginning their spring work.

The Rushville fire department sent pumper No. 2 and saved an adjoining building filled with grain, by using the booster pump.

Gym Fund Raised to $18,600

The fund being raised to build a new high school gymnasium in Rushville was increased to $18,600 this morning when $1,100 more was pledged to solicitors, after the banquet last night when $17,500 was loaned for the proposed gym.

It was urgently requested that all who wish to help the project along, see a solicitor at once and save the committees time and labor. Blanks are in the hands of Warder Wyatt, E. R. Casady, Dr. Frank H. Green, Lee Endres, and others, or may be filled out at Caron's candy kitchen or the Daily Republican office.

their studies. He said in this respect, the times have not changed much, because one frequently hears today the same comments that there is too much basketball.

Dr. Sexton stated that the sports in those days were very tame affairs, but the same purpose was achieved of building stronger bodies, and he made a wonderful appeal that high school students should possess good strong bodies, as well as strong minds. He congratulated the basketball team on its record for the season, and urged a hearty response from the people on the campaign for a new gymnasium.

Earl McNamara, floor guard on the team, responded to the toast, thanking the people for the backing that was given the team this year, and urged even better support to the team next year. A new gymnasium was his plea for the new team next year.

Roy E. Harrold carried a message from the Rotary club, stating that the club joined with the rest of the citizens in extending their congratulations and good wishes to the team members. Mr. Harrold likened the basketball team to the ideals emphasized by the Rotary club, "He profits most who serves best." He stated that the record made by the team this year was evident that the team had also placed, "Service Above Self" another motto of the club. The winning basketball team this year has accomplished a great deal, in advertising Rushville to other communities of the state, said Mr. Harrold in closing.

To this toast, "Joe" Lakin, center on the team, responded, and urged that the new gym be built to accommodate the crowds, and that the builders would not make the mistakes of other cities of building it too small. He urged a seating capacity of not less than 5,000 people.

Paul Allen, representing the Kiwanis club also carried a message

Nine Township Organizations Pledge $850 for the Relief of Southern Indiana Farmers

FUND WILL GO TO $1,200

Money Continues to Come into Red Cross Chapter, $50 Being Received Since Friday

Rush county's sympathy for tornado sufferers in southern Indiana has been expressed in the sum of $2,239.75 to date.

This is the amount that has been contributed by Rush county people for the relief of those who lost property and relatives and friends in the cyclone which cut a swath through the southern part of the state one week ago last Wednesday evening.

The sum of $850.00 which was pledged by nine township farm bureaus Friday night is counted in the grand total for the county, although it is going through a different agency. At the same time, it represents a gift from Rush county and should be credited as a part of the county's contributions.

All of the contributions have not been sent through the Rush county chapter of the Red Cross, but they have come from the pockets of Rush county people and the county has the right to take credit for all that is raised here.

Representatives of nine township farm bureaus, at a meeting in the court house assembly room Friday night, voted $850 in response to the Indiana Farm Bureau Federation's appeal for a fund to be used

A young people's religious conference will be held in Rushville next Friday evening and Saturday, closing with a banquet the last evening, as the result of a young people's mass meeting held at the First Presbyterian church in Rushville last Sunday afternoon, at which tentative plans for the conference were drawn up and 250 registration blanks were distributed for conference registration.

BRIBE REPORTS WILL BE PROBED

Attempt to Influence Witnesses in "Million Dollar Germ Murder" Are Investigated

E. P. CLARK IN CUSTODY

Detained Following Information he Was Offered $5,000 to Leave Chicago

Chicago, Mar. 28—Reports of attempts to bribe state witnesses in the "million dollar germ murder" were investigated today by State Attorney Robert E. Crowe.

Earl P. Clark, an important witness, who gave testimony which led to the arrest of William D. Shepherd on the charge of having murdered Billy McClintock, was taken into custody following reports he had been offered $5,000 to leave the city. The offer was made by a representative of a detective agency, Crowe was told. Crowe ordered the head of the agency brought in.

Coroner's chemists were at work on the bodies of Dr. Olson, brother of Chief Justice Olson and Mrs. Emma McClintock, mother of Billy. On the demand of Justice Olson the bodies were exhumed to determine whether death was caused by poison.

The preliminary examination shows the presence of endocarditis in the body of Mrs. McClintock and pericarditis in the body of Dr. Olson. These are forms of heart affection. Dr. Wm. D. McNally, coroner's chemist said, but said he had not yet established whether death was due to these ailments.

Both bodies are in an excellent state of preservation, despite the fact that Mrs. McClintock died 16 years ago and Dr. Olson three years ago.

William Scott Stewart, attorney for Shepherd, announced he would ask Justice Jacob Hopkins today to rescind his ruling against bail. Stewart said he had new evidence which

She seeks the custody of their minor child, and demands $10 a week support and $1,000 alimony, with the funds being necessary to provide for the child and an unborn child. She alleges that during their married life, she was forced to seek employment. Her residence is in Mays, Center township, according to the complaint.

Among other new suits filed, is a complaint venued here from Hancock county, in which Frank Andrews is plaintiff and the New Palestine Manufacturing Company, and others, are defendants. The action is to collect on a note and is seeking foreclosure, with the demand for $1,900 judgment.

"DECISION DAY" TO BE OBSERVED

Evangelist T. Edward Thomas Will Speak at St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal Church

SERMON ON FRIDAY NIGHT

Saving Power of Jesus as Unchangeable as God Himself, Revival Speaker Declares

The Sunday School at St. Paul's M. E. church will observe "Decision Day" Sunday, the Rev. Edward Thomas making a short talk.

Sunday morning he will speak on "The Right Kind of Homes," and on Sunday evening will take for his subject, "The Golden Rule of the Bible."

Friday night the evangelist took his lesson from Romans 5:1, "Therefore being justified by faith we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ."

"The writer of these words could never have penned them, knowing they would go down in history, had he been uncertain as to the truth expressed in the passage," the speaker said. "He knew by experience there is a knowledge of the saving power of Jesus that is unchangeable as God himself."

"The fact is," he said, "I never remembered a man or woman having been saved by grace through faith that ever doubted God's power through Jesus. Some believe once in grace, always in grace. But having a mind we are likely to change it and get away from God. We as Methodists call you a backslider. If you went away from God, you went on your own accord and can not blame God; come back again and be saved by faith in our Lord Jesus Christ."

"Paul had been to calvary and knew. He said 'we' are justified, 'we' are glad. He said 'we' because it means all of us, even we do not deserve it."

"We have peace with God; we rejoice in the hope of the Glory of God. We have access into this grace wherein we stand. He died to save. That my friend is the dynamic of the gospel," he continued. "Confirming to a code of morals is all the religion some folks ever had, and I am afraid that to most of the professed Christians that is all, but not to all of them. Men differ in many ways, race, training and temperament. Yet he fashioned all our hearts alike. Fundamentally the soul is alike in all men and every religious life begins in a sense of need. A sense of need brings us in touch with God because we need something better than human sympathy, something higher, grander, nobler, as only an infinite God can possess. There will come a time in every one's life

GOVERNOR JACKSON TO APPEAR FOR ADDRESS

Plans Go Forward in Anticipation of an Immense Crowd to Hear Him Here Sunday April 5

AUSPICES AMERICAN LEGION

Governor Ed Jackson has definitely assured Rush Chapter 150, American Legion, that he will be here next Sunday afternoon, April 5, for an address at a public meeting, and arrangements are going forward in anticipation of a large crowd.

The speaking will be the second in the series of four, that have been arranged by the local post of the legion, and which is in charge of John H. Kiplinger, who has secured well known speakers. At the first meeting, former United States Senator Albert J. Beveridge spoke to a capacity audience, and there is little doubt but what Governor Jackson will also be received with an immense audience.

His subject will be announced next week. The meetings are open for the public, and are not for men only, as it was erroneously circulated before the last meeting, and people are urged to bear that fact in mind. The meeting will be held at the Main Street Christian church, and a suitable program is being worked out in connection with the appearance of the governor.

To his address, Robert Newbold, forward on the team, responded, thanking the people for the excellent support this season, and urging a stronger support next year. He made a plea for a new gym, stating that while he would not get the benefit of it yet he had five brothers coming on and his next brother Bill will no doubt be among the players next fall. He said that his basketball practice started in an alley with an old hoop and that he and McNamara and Larkin used to play together, little thinking at that time that they would be on the high school team together and play in the state tourney.

Hugh Mauzy, representing the Booster's Club, spoke next and stated that the purpose of the club was to take an interest in anything that is new, and push along other things that will ultimately result in something worth while for Rushville. The gymnasium project, he said, was highly endorsed by the club, because it represented something that would help the city. A gymnasium is a place, he said, where character is built, as well as strong bodies.

In directing a few words at the team members, he urged that they carry the good wishes of Rushville with them in their future lines of work or pursuits in some college. "Don't belittle your home town. Rushville is a good town, and boost it whenever the opportunity presents itself, no matter where you may be," emphasized Mr. Mauzy. He also paid a tribute to Coach Swain, stating, "he has been a splendid coach and we are delighted to know that he will be here again next year."

Franklyn Miller, back guard, responded to the toast, stating that Mr. Mauzy was right in his plan that the team members should not forget their home town in later years. He urged a new gymnasium for the future, stating that the present floor was not large enough, nor was the ceiling high enough, especially if the team next year should happen to meet that long bunch from Marion.

In introducing the next speaker, Mr. Tittsworth referred to Coach Swain as the "General Pershing" for the basketball squad, because of his excellent commanding during the past two seasons.

Coach Swain stated that he had several points to bring out, laying stress first on the second team in the local school asserting that sometimes the boys play basketball that is amusing, yet from these boys, he says, some day come the first team players, and patrons of the sport should have patience with them, encourage them at all times and boost them, because they are really squad

members of the first team.

He stated that people are learning to understand in a broader sense what basketball and other athletics in high school actually mean to the boys. A boy must be physically fit from October until the middle of March, he said, in order to bring out the best there is in him. He praised the boys for their adherence to the training rules during the past season, and stated that the fans can help a great deal in either making the boys keep training or breaking the training rules.

Another achievement of the present year, he said, was the fact that Rushville won the admiration of some of the best coaches in the United States, because of the many compliments passed upon the team and the team members as displayed at the state tourney, and shown only in the 30 minutes that they played ball.

Dr. Meanwell, one of the foremost coaches, who has charge of the athletics at the University of Wisconsin, hunted Coach Swain up after the games in Indianapolis and paid him a high compliment on the team, and some of the individual members.

And in closing, Coach Swain said, "We have won your cooperation. The supporters of Rushville have learned the game better as rooters. They have come to realize that the gymnasium now in use is outgrown." He called attention to the fact that the game of basketball as scientifically played today, requires a better floor than the present one, and unless a new gymnasium is built, the teams in the future will be greatly handicapped, he said.

John H. Kiplinger was next on the program and outlined the plan for financing and building the gym. A holding company will be organized, he said, and a corporation formed with $70,000 stock. One-half of this amount will be issued as first preferred bearing six percent interest, and will be financed by an outside building company. The remaining one-half will be stock in shares of $100, bearing no interest, and will be raised locally to finance the building. The Rushville high school athletic association pledged to raise $10,000 of this amount, and the balance of $25,000 was the goal placed for securing the loans from citizens and those interested in the welfare of basketball and the interests of the city.

The earnings of the gymnasium from basketball games, and rentals for other purposes is believed to be sufficient to pay back one-tenth of the amount on the principal of the first $35,000, and also pay the interest, and retire certain portions of the borrowed money that is now being raised from the subscriptions.

Mrs. Allie Aldridge president of the city school board, pledged support of the board in the new project and stated that there was no doubt but what a building was needed, and on behalf of the board, she stated that they would enter into a contract for the rental of it, and would pay anything that is reasonable for this purpose.

E. R. Casady, another member of the school board, urged the building of the new gym and pledged his support as a member of the board. The present gymnasium, he said, can be used for physical training work in the schools, and provide room for the smaller children to play games, stating that there was an urgent need for two gymnasiums in the public schools.

Mr. Casady also stated that the school board will willingly rent the gym and pay a definite rental, and urged that the money borrowed from the people, be repaid proportionately on equal basis annually.

E. B. Butler, high school principal, expressed his gratitude in the confidence of the community in the schools. The same confidence, he said, was outstanding at basketball games and officials of the game were high in their praise for the spirit displayed here, which he said is indeed a compliment to the community. The best referees of the state are anxious to book games here he said, because of the fine sportsmanship displayed.

In pledging $10,000 for the athletic association, he stated that $5,000 had already been raised from the sale of season tickets for next year, and that a further campaign would be made to reach others who had not been solicited, and that an additional $3,000 would be raised from this sale. The student's tickets will be sold, and this will yield an additional $1,000, he said. The remaining $1,000 he said will be the balance in the treasury at the end of the present school year, after all expenses have been paid, and other lines of school activity supported by the association, have been paid.

Mr. Butler stated that a building to seat 5,000 spectators would no doubt be filled at least 9 out of the 10 games next season, and a strong schedule has been announced that will insure large crowds. In addition to the regular schedule, there are several tourneys in view, with the sectional, and a strong chance to secure the regional tourney, which was held at Richmond this year. In addition, a state tourney for high school second teams has been arranged here for next year.

"Mike" Arbuckle, forward on the team, who will be back in the game next year, predicted that the Lions will be among the top next season, and said that there is an abundance of material on hand.

Lawrence Davison, another player, will be back next year and he also pledged his support to help make the team go higher next year, stating that "you are now saying that we have been to the state twice, and this time next year, you will be saying, three times instead of two. We expect to make the third time, a state champ team."

Supt. Allman stated that he was heart and soul in the plan for a new gymnasium and was willing to do everything in his power to see to it that a building will be built this summer.

Warder Wyatt, the third member of the school board was then placed in charge of obtaining the pledges and a black board was used to check off the spaces as fast as the loans were announced. It was started with $1,000 loans and several of them were pledged, dropping down then to $500, then to $300, $200 and finally $100. In less than an hour after the appeal had been opened, the board showed $17,500 of the $25,000 goal, and this practically assured the success of the building.

daily dozen by air this morning?"
This is a morning salutation that is becoming common and will increase
as the days go by, for broadcasting
stations are now providing setting
up exercises by radio.The sleepy heads are awakened with the ringing of chimes and the
"air gym" class is put through its
paces any time between 6:30 and 8 o'clock every morning.Statisticians have estimated that over a million radio fans are doing
their "daily dozen" each day in accordance with the instructions of one station alone.A number of stations have taken up the innovation. The general rule is to "pop up" the early risers with snappy jazz music before the instructions are issued and the orchestra plays popular airs between class periods.Thousands who first tuned in just
to hear the music and valuable advice now join in the exercises, which enable them to start the day full of vim, vigor and health.With one broadcaster, it is more than merely a stunt in the annals of
broadcasting; it is a serious effort to raise the standard of health among
life insurance policy holders.

attempted to influence Chicago newspapers to give less emphasis to
crime news; in fact, to declare a holiday during the Lenten season.Newspapers ignored the request.
None commented upon it editorially.
They undoubtedly felt it was within their province to publish what their readers want. As long as newspapers are supported by the public, they have a right to conclude that they are meeting the requirements of those who subscribe for their paper.Censorship of the press is a dangerous thing to suggest. Freedom of the press is one of America's guarantees of liberty, just as freedom of speech is another safeguard against tyranny and dictatorship, which the writers of the constitution were wise
enough to see was essential to the life of a republic.Crime news may be overdone, but
to suppress it entirely would be a greater wrong because crime represents a problem that has to be met,
and it can't be dealt with intelligently and no one can form an opinion on the question without some knowledge of it.The idea that publication of criminal acts suggests crime to others
is the most used argument against publicity given crime, but it is very doubtful whether any crime could ever be traced to such a source. If this were true, it might as logically
be assumed that walking through an insane asylum would cause one to become insane.Crime publicity should teach a lesson that transgressors must suffer.
The only fault with some of the larger metropolitan newspapers is that they do not give enough prominence to the conviction of criminals.
The last chapter of a crime should

NEA Service WriterWASHINGTON — Much has been said and will be said
as to the influence of "partisanship" in the action by the Senate in twice rejecting the nomination of Charles Beecher Warren to be United States attorney general.The cry of "partisanship" is easily raised. It is difficult to refute. It is a charge that easily catches the public attention, and in the absence of a full understanding of a given situation is likely to be accepted by the public as the chief basis on which opposition is founded.It is most probable that the country now believes and will continue to believe that partisanship was the controlling factor in the struggle over the Warren appointment.That it was a factor, no one who knows politics and human nature will doubt.But that it was the controlling factor, anyone who followed the development of the fight will—privately if not publicly—deny.The question that should always be balanced against the view that the 46 votes against Warren were purely partisan votes is:"To what degree were the 39 votes cast favorably to Mr. Warren influenced by similarly partisan considerations?"The truth would be, of course, that partisanship played equally as dominant a part in the fight to put Warren across as it did in the fight to block his confirmation.THE lack of enthusiasm over the Warren appointment, on the Republican side of the Sen-ate, was at all times strikingly evident.Warren is no more popular with a lot of the older Republican wing
in the Senate than he is with the Michigan representation in Congress.And his fellow Michiganders turned thumbs down on him.One staunch G. O. P. publication, which made a poll of Republican senators, reported that only five members could be registered as out-and-out Warren supporters.The other 34, the inference being, were voting for him because of party regularity, on the theory that the president ought to have a free hand in naming his own cabinet.If nothing else, the result has demonstrated that the "safe party control" the president was said to hold in the new Senate has gone glimmering before any legislation has been brought before that body.For not only did the four "in-surgers" who have been expelled from the G. O. P. family by the Senate caucus—La Follette, Ladd, Frazier and Brookhart—vote against the president's dearest desire, but seven others stepped out of the party lineup to record their opposition. These were: Borah, Coughens, Howell, Johnson, Nor-
beck, Norris and McMaster.With Shipstead, a Farm-Labor senator, this makes a total of 12
votes that may, as they desire, exercise a veto on administration plans. With the Democratic strength of 40, this group, which already has forfeited administration favor, can effectively block any G. O. P. proposals that are too conservatively partisan.FIFTEEN YEARS

TENNIS TITLE NOW AT STAKE

Indoor Match For International Competition, Gets Under Way To-
day in New York

FRANCE IS A FAVORITE

Jean Borota Should Not Have Much
Trouble, as American Competition
is Said to be Weak

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

New York, March 28—France is
all set to walk away with a victory
in the first major international competition of the year.

Jean Borota, star of the French
Davis cup team and the Wimbledon
champion of 1924 is the ranking entry in the national indoor tennis championships which start here today.

Unless he is not on his game, as a result of his voyage, Borota ought
to have but little trouble winning
the championships as the leading
American players are not entered.

Vincent Richards, who won the title last year for the third consecutive time is playing in the south
and did not enter to defend his championship title. Frank T. Hunter, who was second in the singles
last year and the winner of the
doubles with Richards has also passed up the tournament.

Bill Tilden, the worlds champion
has not played in indoor championships for several years and is too
busy with movies and other things
to try for another title that he cares
little for.

Tilden told friends recently in the
south that he might confine his competition to exhibition work this
year and that it was not at all certain that he would defend his national outdoor championship or play
with the American team in the Davis cup challenge round.

None of the stars from the Pacific Coast are entered in the tournament and the middlewest is not represented by any of its leading
players.

Among the sixty one players entered are Herbert L. Bowman, Metropolitan clay court champion;
Jerry Lang of Columbia, Brooklyn
champion; Fred Anderson, Bermuda
champion and Horace Ossor, national interscholastic champion.

France has a second entry in A.
W. Asthalter, who arrived here some time ago but is not rated as a championship possibility.

Hopkins no alternative but to agree to Shepherd's freedom on bond.

Mrs. Luella Rhuebell, former secretary of Dr. C. C. Faiman, chief witness against Shepherd, told attaches of the state's attorney's office that she had evidence that Dr.
Faiman never had any germs in his medical school and therefore could not have given typhoid germs to Shepherd. The woman said she possessed documents which would destroy the value of Dr. Faiman's testimony.

JUDGMENT IS REDUCED

An argument on a motion for a new trial was heard this morning in the Henry circuit court at Newcastle, in the Rush county case of Arthur Jordan against A. P. Walker,
a suit involving a deal in cattle, and
in which the plaintiff recently was awarded $3,500 judgment. An alternative plan was submitted, in which the court agreed to grant either a
new trial, or reduce the judgment,
and the parties accepted the plan
to reduce the judgment, which resulted in the judgment being reduced $1,900, or brought down to $1,600.

The Rev. W. Gay Hamilton of Milroy, who was introduced by Walter Richey, of Milroy, president of the Rush County Sunday School association, presided at the Sunday afternoon mass meeting in the absence of Mrs. Hamilton, who was ill with the influenza. The opening prayer was offered by Pauline Johnson and the scripture reading was given by Margaret Winship.

Cecil Scantland, superintendent of the Wayne county young people's division, with Delbert Pitman and Raymond Bailey, county officers, told of the successful work which is being conducted in other communities and how the program of the young people is a direct assistance to the church.

The Rev. T. Edward Thomas of Muncie, who is holding a revival at St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church, made a strong plea for renewed activity in religious work and urged the young people of Rush county to "launch out." This work requires courage, continuity and co-operation, he said.

Others sharing in the program were the Rev. Gibson Wilson, the Rev. H. W. Hargrett and Orville Morgan. Special music was rendered by the Carson sisters of Plum Creek and Evangelist Thomas pronounced the benediction.

HIGH SCHOOL REFLECTOR

GINGS SCHOOL

The Oratorical contest was held last Friday night at the Gings school. There were five contestants, Clara Cortner was given first place, Helen Kennedy and Adrian Eckart, tying for second place, Clyde Gordon, fourth, and Robert Myer, fifth. The winner will be presented with a medal.

One pupil has been missed very much this week at school, Miss Naomi Nash, the Rush county representative in the Junior Legislature at Indianapolis. We would all have liked to visit the legislature this last week. We are expecting important laws to be passed. The Rush county representative was runner up in the race for minority floor leader in a caucus of that body and was elected caucus chairman for her party. She also was selected by the minority nominee for speaker, Dallas Burress of Indianapolis, to make his nomination speech from the floor of the house.

She had three measures to present to the legislature for action; one drawn up at the request of the Homer school and two drawn up at Gings.

We had a new principal Monday,

Mrs. Stewart, as Mr. Sipe was absent.

The eighth grade has finished its history and is now working on history note books.

The domestic science girls of the seventh and eighth grades are progressing very rapidly. They have finished making aprons and are working on other things.

The Sopomores think they are better acquainted with Julius Caesar than they were last September, as they are almost through the third book.

CENTER SCHOOL

On Friday night, April 3, the grade and high school pupils will give a musical program at the Center church. Everyone is invited.

The attendance during the past two weeks has been very low as a number of the pupils are suffering from severe colds.

For opening exercises Thursday morning, Marshall Wilson read Mark Twain's essay on "Man;" Edward Reeves read "A Floating City," Mr. Landrus told some jokes and Miss Swart read a few poems from modern authors.

A number of the high school pupils enjoyed a birthday party at the home of Ellie Stoten on Monday night.

The Latin 1 Class is now making a study of dependent verbs and is on page 183 of the text book. The Caesar class is now translating Chapter 23, Book 111.

School will be held at both Center and Mays on Saturday, March 28, to make up time lost during the Thanksgiving vacation.

The Mother's club was very pleasantly entertained at the school on Friday afternoon. After the business meeting and the program, refreshments were served.

HIGH SCHOOL GYMNASIUM THIS SUMMER PRACTICALLY ASSURED

Spurred on by Talks and High Geared Enthusiasm, Men at Community Banquet Pledge $17,500

$25,000 HAS TO BE RAISED

With This Sum Loaned by Citizens of Community, $70,000 Building Can be Constructed

MONEY TO BEAR NO INTEREST

Tribute Paid to Coach Swain, Members of High School Squad and Parents of The Boys

Spurred on by talks and high geared enthusiasm, a new $70,000 gymnasium for Rushville was practically assured Friday night at the Community banquet held in honor of the basketball team, and $17,500 of a guaranteed quota of $25,000 was raised in less than an hour.

The balance of $7,500 will be raised the first of next week by the committee, as there are many prospects who have not been approached for a loan, and there is little doubt but what the new gymnasium for the Rushville high school will be built this summer, ready for the opening game in November.

The banquet was held in the basement of the Christian church, and 200 persons attended, paying tribute to the basketball squad and coach John Swain, the fathers and mothers of the boys and other invited guests.

John A. Tittsworth presided as chairman of the meeting, and had charge of the program that followed the banquet, served by the Pastor's Aid Society of the church. Mr. Tittsworth rang the bell that was used years ago by Prof. David Graham, founder of the city school system, when he used to stand on the steps of the school, and summon the pupils into the building.

The Rev. Gilson Wilson offered prayer, and the high school orchestra played several selections. After the banquet, Dr. J. C. Sexton delivered a toast on the appreciation of the alumni. It has been 50 years since he graduated from high school, he said, and even when he attended school, the athletic sports were censured by a great many people who thought that the boys and girls were wasting too much time, and should be spending more time on

The fund being raised to build a new high school gymnasium in Rushville was increased to $18,600 this morning when $1,100 more was pledged to solicitors, after the banquet last night when $17,500 was loaned for the proposed gym.

It was urgently requested that all who wish to help the project along, see a solicitor at once and save the committees time and labor. Blanks are in the hands of Warder Wyatt, E. R. Casady, Dr. Frank H. Green, Lee Endres, and others, or may be filled out at Caron's candy kitchen or the Daily Republican office.

their studies. He said in this respect, the times have not changed much, because one frequently hears today the same comments that there is too much basketball.

Dr. Sexton stated that the sports in those days were very tame affairs, but the same purpose was achieved of building stronger bodies, and he made a wonderful appeal that high school students should possess good strong bodies, as well as strong minds. He congratulated the basketball team on its record for the season, and urged a hearty response from the people on the campaign for a new gymnasium.

Earl McNamara, floor guard on the team, responded to the toast, thanking the people for the backing that was given the team this year, and urged even better support to the team next year. A new gymnasium was his plea for the new team next year.

Roy E. Harrold carried a message from the Rotary club, stating that the club joined with the rest of the citizens in extending their congratulations and good wishes to the team members. Mr. Harrold likened the basketball team to the ideals emphasized by the Rotary club, "He profits most who serves best." He stated that the record made by the team this year was evident that the team had also placed, "Service Above Self" another motto of the club. The winning basketball team this year has accomplished a great deal, in advertising Rushville to other communities of the state, said Mr. Harrold in closing.

To this toast, "Joe" Lakin, center on the team, responded, and urged that the new gym be built to accommodate the crowds, and that the builders would not make the mistakes of other cities of building it too small. He urged a seating capacity of not less than 5,000 people.

Nine Township Organizations Pledge $850 for the Relief of Southern Indiana Farmers

FUND WILL GO TO $1,200

Money Continues to Come Into Red Cross Chapter; $50 Being Received Since Friday

Rush county's sympathy for tornado sufferers in southern Indiana has been expressed in the sum of $2,239.75 to date.

This is the amount that has been contributed by Rush county people for the relief of those who lost property and relatives and friends in the cyclone which cut a swath through the southern part of the state one week ago last Wednesday evening.

The sum of $850.00 which was pledged by nine township farm bureaus Friday night is counted in the grand total for the county, although it is going through a different agency. At the same time, it represents a gift from Rush county and should be credited as a part of the county's contributions.

All of the contributions have not been sent through the Rush county chapter of the Red Cross, but they have come from the pockets of Rush county people and the county has the right to take credit for all that is raised here.

Representatives of nine township farm bureaus, at a meeting in the court house assembly room Friday night, voted $850 in response to the Indiana Farm Bureau Federation's appeal for a fund to be used

YOUNG PEOPLE TO HOLD CONFERENCE

Plans Completed for Religious Gathering to be Addressed by State Workers

TO CLOSE WITH A BANQUET

H. G. Rowe, State Head of Young People's Division, to Speak at Opening Session

A young people's religious conference will be held in Rushville next Friday evening and Saturday, closing with a banquet the last evening, as the result of a young people's mass meeting held at the First Presbyterian church in Rushville last Sunday afternoon, at which tentative plans for the conference were drawn up and 250 registration blanks were distributed for conference registration.

H. G. Rowe, state superintendent of the young people's division, together with county Sunday school workers, for some time has been desirous of holding a county-wide conference of Rush county young people.

According to tentative plans for the conference, following the registration Friday evening at 7 o'clock, the program will consist of mass singing, a devotional period, announcements and opening address by Mr. Rowe on "To Be or Not to Be." Miss Alice Piersol, county supervisor of music, will have charge of the song service.

Saturday's sessions opening at 9:45 a. m. and 1 p. m. will be devoted to devotional periods, lectures, demonstration work and class sessions of instruction in Sunday school methods and answering vital questions.

The work of the day will be interspersed with song services and recreational music. At the business session officers for the ensuing year will be elected and the place decided upon for the 1926 conference. The instruction periods will be led by E. T. Albertson, general secretary of the Indiana Council of Religious Education; Wayne Witaker, president of the Geneva Clubs of Indiana; Miss Jane Farmer, superintendent of the Young People's division of Putnam county; and Miss Gladys Co-sand, a Wayne county worker.

The following committees were announced: Registration, Louise Pitman, Kathleen Hobbs, Alice

BRIBE REPORTS WILL BE PROBED

Attempt to Influence Witnesses in "Million Dollar Germ Murder" Are Investigated

E. P. CLARK IN CUSTODY

Detained Following Information he Was Offered $5,000 to Leave Chicago

Chicago, Mar. 28—Reports of attempts to bribe state witnesses in the "million dollar germ murder" were investigated today by State Attorney Robert E. Crowe.

Earl P. Clark, an important witness, who gave testimony which led to the arrest of William D. Shepherd on the charge of having murdered Billy McClintock, was taken into custody following reports he had been offered $5,000 to leave the city. The offer was made by a representative of a detective agency, Crowe was told. Crowe ordered the head of the agency brought in.

Coroner's chemists were at work on the bodies of Dr. Olson, brother of Chief Justice Olson and Mrs. Emma McClintock, mother of Billy. On the demand of Justice Olson the bodies were exhumed to determine whether death was caused by poison.

The preliminary examination shows the presence of endocarditis in the body of Mrs. McClintock and pericarditis in the body of Dr. Olson. These are forms of heart affection. Dr. Wm. D. McNally, coroner's chemist said, but said he had not yet established whether death was due to these ailments.

Both bodies are in an excellent state of preservation, despite the fact that Mrs. McClintock died 10 years ago and Dr. Olson three years ago.

William Scott Stewart, attorney for Shepherd, announced he would ask Justice Jacob Hopkins today to rescind his ruling against bail. Stewart said he had new evidence which

MARY J. CRANLEY IN SUIT FOR A DIVORCE

Alleges Her Husband James Cranley is Lazy and Has Not Supported Her Since Last August

ASKS FOR CHILD'S CUSTODY

Mary J. Cranley is plaintiff in a complaint for divorce filed today in the circuit court against James Cranley, in which she charges that her husband is lazy, fails to provide and has not supported her since last August.

They were married May 6, 1922 and separated August 8, 1924, according to the suit. She seeks the custody of their minor child, and demands $10 a week support and $1,000 alimony, with the funds being necessary to provide for the child and an unborn child. She alleges that during their married life, she was forced to seek employment. Her residence is in Mays, Center township, according to the complaint.

Among other new suits filed, is a complaint venue here from Hancock county, in which Frank Andrews is plaintiff and the New Palestine Manufacturing Company, and others, are defendants. The action is to collect on a note and is seeking foreclosure, with the demand for $1,200 judgment.

"DECISION DAY" TO BE OBSERVED

Evangelist T. Edward Thomas Will Speak at St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal Church

SERMON ON FRIDAY NIGHT

Saving Power of Jesus as Unchangeable as God Himself, Revival Speaker Declares

The Sunday School at St. Paul's M. E. church will observe "Decision Day" Sunday, the Rev. Edward Thomas making a short talk.

Sunday morning he will speak on "The Right Kind of Homes," and on Sunday evening will take for his subject, "The Golden Rule of the Bible."

Friday night the evangelist took his lesson from Romans 5:1, "Therefore being justified by faith we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ."

"The writer of these words could never have penned them, knowing they would go down in history, had he been uncertain as to the truth expressed in the passage," the speaker said. "He knew by experience there is a knowledge of the saving power of Jesus that is unchangeable as God himself."

"The fact is," he said, "I never remembered a man or woman having been saved by grace through faith that ever doubted God's power through Jesus. Some believe once in grace, always in grace. But having a mind we are likely to change it and get away from God. We as Methodists call you a backslider. If you went away from God, you went on your own accord and can not blame God; come back again and be saved by faith in our Lord Jesus Christ."

"Paul had been to calvary and knew. He said 'we are justified,' 'we are glad. He said 'we' because it means all of us, even 'we do not deserve it."

"We have peace with God; we rejoice in the hope of the Glory of God. We have access into this grace wherein we stand. He died to save. That my friend is the dynamic of the gospel," he continued. "Confirming to a code of morals is all the religion some folks ever had, and I am afraid that to most of the professed Christians that is all, but not to all of them. Men differ in many ways, race, training and temperament. Yet he fashioned all our hearts alike. Fundamentally the soul is alike in all men and every religious life begins in a sense of need. A sense of need brings us in touch with God because we need something better than human sympathy, something higher, grander, nobler, as only an infinite God can possess. There will come a time in every one's life

Plans Go Forward in Anticipation of an Immense Crowd to Hear Him Here Sunday April 5

AUSPICES AMERICAN LEGION

Governor Ed Jackson has definitely assured Rush Chapter 150, American Legion, that he will be here next Sunday afternoon, April 5, for an address at a public meeting, and arrangements are going forward in anticipation of a large crowd.

The speaking will be the second in the series of four, that have been arranged by the local post of the legion, and which is in charge of John H. Kiplinger, who has secured well known speakers. At the first meeting, former United States Senator Albert J. Beveridge spoke to a capacity audience, and there is little doubt but what Governor Jackson will also be received with an immense audience.

His subject will be announced next week. The meetings are open for the public, and are not for men only, as it was erroneously circulated before the last meeting, and people are urged to bear that fact in mind. The meeting will be held at the Main Street Christian church, and a suitable program is being worked out in connection with the appearance of the governor.

To his address, Robert Newbold, forward on the team, responded, thanking the people for the excellent support this season, and urging a stronger support next year. He made a plea for a new gym, stating that while he would not get the benefit of it yet he had five brothers coming on and his next brother Bill will no doubt be among the players next fall. He said that his basketball practice started in an alley with an old hoop and that he and McNamara and Larkin used to play together, little thinking at that time that they would be on the high school team together and play in the state tourney.

Hugh Mauzy, representing the Booster's Club, spoke next and stated that the purpose of the club was to take an interest in anything that is new, and push along other things that will ultimately result in something worth while for Rushville. The gymnasium project, he said, was highly endorsed by the club, because it represented something that would help the city. A gymnasium is a place, he said, where character is built, as well as strong bodies.

In directing a few words at the team members, he urged that they carry the good wishes of Rushville with them in their future lines of work or pursuits in some college. "Don't belittle your home town. Rushville is a good town, and boost it whenever the opportunity presents itself, no matter where you may be," emphasized Mr. Mauzy. He also paid a tribute to Coach Swain, stating, "he has been a splendid coach and we are delighted to know that he will be here again next year."

Franklyn Miller, back guard, responded to the toast, stating that Mr. Mauzy was right in his plan that the team members should not forget their home town in later years. He urged a new gymnasium for the future, stating that the present floor was not large enough, nor was the ceiling high enough, especially if the team next year should happen to meet that long bunch from Marion.

In introducing the next speaker, Mr. Tittsworth referred to Coach Swain as the "General Pershing" for the basketball squad, because of his excellent commanding during the past two seasons.

Coach Swain stated that he had several points to bring out, laying stress first on the second team in the local school asserting that sometimes the boys play basketball that is amusing, yet from these boys, he says, some day come the first team players, and patrons of the sport should have patience with them, encourage them at all times and boost them, because they are really squad

members of the first team.

He stated that people are learning to understand in a broader sense what basketball and other athletics in high school actually mean to the boys. A boy must be physically fit from October until the middle of March, he said, in order to bring out the best there is in him. He praised the boys for their adherence to the training rules during the past season, and stated that the fans can help a great deal in either making the boys keep training or breaking the training rules.

Another achievement of the present year, he said, was the fact that Rushville won the admiration of some of the best coaches in the United States, because of the many compliments passed upon the team and the team members as displayed at the state tourney, and shown only in the 30 minutes that they played ball.

Dr. Meanwell, one of the foremost coaches, who has charge of the athletics at the University of Wisconsin, hunted Coach Swain up after the games in Indianapolis and paid him a high compliment on the team, and some of the individual members.

And in closing, Coach Swain said, "We have won your cooperation. The supporters of Rushville have learned the game better as rooters. They have come to realize that the gymnasium now in use is outgrown." He called attention to the fact that the game of basketball as scientifically played today, requires a better floor than the present one, and unless a new gymnasium is built, the teams in the future will be greatly handicapped, he said.

John H. Kiplinger was next on the program and outlined the plan for financing and building the gym. A holding company will be organized, he said, and a corporation formed with $70,000 stock. One-half of this amount will be issued as first preferred bearing six percent interest, and will be financed by an outside building company. The remaining one-half will be stock in shares of $100, bearing no interest, and will be raised locally to finance the building. The Rushville high school athletic association pledged to raise $10,000 of this amount, and the balance of $25,000 was the goal placed for securing the loans from citizens and those interested in the welfare of basketball and the interests of the city.

The earnings of the gymnasium from basketball games, and rentals for other purposes is believed to be sufficient to pay back one-tenth of the amount on the principal of the first $35,000, and also pay the interest, and retire certain portions of the borrowed money that is now being raised from the subscriptions.

Mr. Allie Aldridge, president of the city school board, pledged support of the board in the new project and stated that there was no doubt but what a building was needed, and on behalf of the board, she stated that they would enter into a contract for the rental of it, and would pay anything that is reasonable for this purpose.

E. R. Casady, another member of the school board, urged the building of the new gym and pledged his support as a member of the board. The present gymnasium, he said, can be used for physical training work in the schools, and provide room for the smaller children to play games, stating that there was an urgent need for two gymnasiums in the public schools.

Mr. Casady also stated that the school board will willingly rent the gym and pay a definite rental, and urged that the money borrowed from the people, be repaid proportionately

on equal basis annually.

E. B. Butler, high school principal, expressed his gratitude in the confidence of the community in the schools. The same confidence, he said, was outstanding at basketball games and officials of the game were high in their praise for the spirit displayed here, which he said is indeed a compliment to the community. The best referees of the state are anxious to book games here he said, because of the fine sportsmanship displayed.

In pledging $10,000 for the athletic association, he stated that $5,000 had already been raised from the sale of season tickets for next year, and that a further campaign would be made to reach others who had not been solicited, and that an additional $3,000 would be raised from this sale. The student's tickets will be sold, and this will yield an additional $1,000, he said. The remaining $1,000 he said will be the balance in the treasure at the end of the present school year, after all expenses have been paid, and other lines of school activity supported by the association, have been paid.

Mr. Butler stated that a building to seat 5,000 spectators would no doubt be filled at least 9 out of the 10 games next season, and a strong schedule has been announced that will insure large crowds. In addition to the regular schedule, there are several tourneys in view, with the sectional, and a strong chance to secure the regional tourney, which was held at Richmond this year. In addition, a state tourney for high school second teams has been arranged here for next year.

"Mike" Arbuckle, forward on the team, who will be back in the game next year, predicted that the Lions will be among the top next season, and said that there is an abundance of material on hand.

Lawrence Davison, another player, will be back next year and he also pledged his support to help make the team go higher next year, stating that "you are now saying that we have been to the state twice, and this time next year, you will be saying, three times instead of two. We expect to make the third time, a state champ team."

Supt. Allman stated that he was heart and soul in the plan for a new gymnasium and was willing to do everything in his power to see to it that a building will be built this summer.

Warder Wyatt, the third member of the school board was then placed in charge of obtaining the pledges and a black board was used to check off the spaces as fast as the loans were announced. It was started with $1,000 loans and several of them were pledged, dropping down then to $500, then to $300, $200 and finally $100. In less than an hour after the appeal had been opened, the board showed $17,500 of the $25,000 goal, and this practically assured the success of the building.

Air Gym Classes

"Good morning, have you had your

daily dozen by air this morning?"

This is a morning salutation that is

becoming common and will increase

as the days go by, for broadcasting

stations are now providing setting

up exercises by radio.

The sleepy heads are awakened

with the ringing of chimes and the

"air gym" class is put through its

paces any time between 6:30 and 8 o'clock every morning.

Statisticians have estimated that

over a million radio fans are doing

their "daily dozen" each day in ac-

station alone.

A number of stations have taken

up the innovation. The general rule

is to "pep up" the early risers with

snappy jazz music before the instructions are issued and the orchestra plays popular airs between class

periods.

Thousands who first tuned in just

to hear the music and valuable ad-

vice now join in the exercises, which

enable them to start the day full of vigor and health.

With one broadcaster, it is more

than merely a stunt in the annals of

broadcasting; it is a serious effort to raise the standard of health among

life insurance policy holders.

Brain power and physical power

go hand in hand. Pep for the business man and the indoors worker can be coined into dollars. Energy and enthusiasm at work are the best insurance against failure.If the radio gym classes educate people to take better care of their bodies, surely a valuable service will be performed.Crime NewsChicago church leaders recently attempted to influence Chicago newspapers to give less emphasis to
crime news; in fact, to declare a
holiday during the Lenten season.Newspapers ignored the request.
None commented upon it editorially.
They undoubtedly felt it was within
their province to publish what their readers want. As long as newspapersare supported by the public, they have a right to conclude that they
are meeting the requirements of
those who subscribe for their paper.Censorship of the press is a dangerous thing to suggest. Freedom of the press is one of America's guarantees of liberty, just as freedom of speech is another safeguard againsttyranny and dictatorship, which the writers of the constitution were wise
enough to see was essential to the
life of a republic.Crime news may be overdone, but
to suppress it entirely would be a
greater wrong because crime represents a problem that has to be met,
and it can't be dealt with intelligentlyand no one can form an opinion on the question without some knowledge of it.The idea that publication of criminal acts suggests crime to others
is the most used argument against
publicity given crime, but it is very doubtful whether any crime couldever be traced to such a source. If this were true, it might as logically
be assumed that walking through an
insane asylum would cause one to become insane.

Crime publicity should teach a les-
son that transgressors must suffer.
The only fault with some of the larger metropolitan newspapers isthat they do not give enough prominence to the conviction of criminals.
The last chapter of a crime should have just as much space as the first.The Hodge-Podge

Indoor Match For International
Competition, Gets Under Way To-
day in New York

FRANCE IS A FAVORITE

Jean Borota Should Not Have Much
Trouble, as American Competition
is Said to be Weak

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

New York, March 28—France is
all set to walk away with a victory
in the first major international competition of the year.

Jean Borota, star of the French
Davis cup team and the Wimbledon
champion of 1924 is the ranking entry in the national indoor tennis
championships which start here today.

Unless he is not on his game, as a result of his voyage, Borota ought
to have but little trouble winning
the championships as the leading
American players are not entered.

Vincent Richards, who won the title last year for the third consecutive time is playing in the south
and did not enter to defend his
championship title. Frank T. Hunter, who was second in the singles
last year and the winner of the
doubles with Richards has also passed up the tournament.

Bill Tilden, the world's champion
has not played in indoor championships for several years and is too
busy with movies and other things
to try for another title that he cares
little for.

Tilden told friends recently in the
south that he might confine his competition to exhibition work this
year and that it was not at all certain that he would defend his national outdoor championship or play
with the American team in the Davis cup challenge round.

None of the stars from the Pacific Coast are entered in the tournament and the middle west is not represented by any of its leading
players.

Among the sixty one players entered are Herbert L. Bowman, Metropolitan clay court champion;
Jerry Lang of Columbia, Brooklyn
champion; Fred Anderson, Bermuda
champion and Horace Ossor, national intercollegiate champion.

France has a second entry in A.
W. Asthalter, who arrived here some time ago but is not rated as a championship possibility.

JUDGMENT IS REDUCED

An argument on a motion for a

the Henry circuit court at Newcastle, in the Rush county case of Arthur Jordan against A. P. Walker,
a suit involving a deal in cattle, and
in which the plaintiff recently was awarded $3,500 judgment. An alternative plan was submitted, in which
the court agreed to grant either a
new trial, or reduce the judgment,
and the parties accepted the plan
to reduce the judgment, which resulted in the judgment being reduced $1,900, or brought down to

"A Stitch In Time—"

The old adage cannot be more aptly applied than in connection with your car.

"A stitch in time certainly saves nine." A wrench applied here or a bit of cleaning there will save you much money and you'll always have a better running car.

Miss Edna Barringer entertained the N. F. C. club at her home in this city Friday evening. Games and music on the piano were enjoyed and at the close of the delightful evening refreshments were served. The next meeting will be held next Friday evening with Miss Ruth Miller.

A large crowd attended the regular meeting of the Rebekah Lodge Friday evening at the lodge rooms in North Morgan street, and also enjoyed the social following the meeting. During the business meeting many important matters were discussed by the members. At the close of the evening's entertainment, refreshments of ice cream, cake and coffee were served.

Mrs. Walter Harold Pearce entertained with the second of a series of bridge teas at her home in North Main street Friday afternoon. Seven tables of bridge were in session during the afternoon, and several other guests came in for tea afterwards.

Lovely bouquets of sweet peas and roses gave the living room and dining room of the home beauty and fragrance.

Guests from out of the city were Mrs. Ralph Flood and Miss Cox of Indianapolis. Mrs. Robert L. Tompkins and Mrs. Will M. Sparks poured tea and served the salad.

The first of the series of bridge teas by Mrs. Pearce was given Wednesday afternoon, when guests, a number of them visiting in Rushville, were entertained at ten tables of bridge.

Downs, Irene Carfield and Mary Heaton; publicity, Robert Kimmet, Clyde Gordon, Franklin Mullin and Lowell Hutchinson; banquet, Miss Florine Gronier, Mrs. Herschel VanMatre, Miss Ellendore Lampton and Bernice Douthett.

The Rev. W. Gay Hamilton of Milroy, who was introduced by Walter Richey, of Milroy, president of the Rush County Sunday School association, presided at the Sunday afternoon mass meeting in the absence of Mrs. Hamilton, who was ill with the influenza. The opening prayer was offered by Pauline Johnson and the scripture reading was given by Margaret Winship.

Cecil Seantland, superintendent of the Wayne county young people's division, with Delbert Pitman and Raymond Bailey, county officers, told of the successful work which is being conducted in other communities and how the program of the young people is a direct assistance to the church.

The Rev. T. Edward Thomas of Muncie, who is holding a revival at St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church, made a strong plea for renewed activity in religious work and urged the young people of Rush county to "launch out." This work requires courage, continuity and co-operation, he said.

Others sharing in the program were the Rev. Gibson Wilson, the Rev. H. W. Hargett and Orville Morgan. Special music was rendered by the Carson sisters of Plum Creek and Evangelist Thomas pronounced the benediction.

clusively for the aid of farmers in the tornado area.

Three other township bureaus are expected to take action on the appeal, and with the assistance of the county organization, it is expected that the farm bureau contribution will amount to $1,200.

The township organizations represented last night and the amounts they pledged are as follows:

Washington	$50.00
Jackson	50.00
Walker	50.00
Noble	100.00
Union	100.00
Richland	100.00
Anderson	100.00
Orange	100.00
Rushville	200.00

The Red Cross fund was increased $50 since the last report, made Friday. The largest contribution was $20.00 sent by Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Innis, who are spending the winter in Florida.

AWARDS GIVEN TO BASKETBALL MEN

practice, unless excused by the coach for legitimate reasons; he must have maintained all the rules of training as given by the coach; in basketball he must have played in 50 percent of the regularly scheduled games of the season and must have played a total of 400 minutes in all.

For the award in track and field events, he must win first or second place in the sectional track meet or any point in the state meet.

By following the above rules, a distinction may be made as to the awards on the basis of years played or it may distinguish between Seniors who are substitutes and those who have played regularly more than one year. It also distinguishes between underclassmen who are regulars, and will prove an incentive for underclassmen to try harder for a berth on the teams.

"DECISION DAY" TO BE OBSERVED

when we will feed more than human sympathy.

"And when you realize that you need Him, then you reach the throne of your prayers and not until then.

"While we were yet sinners He loved us. Such love eclipses all other human possibilities as compared to Him.

"Then to my mind the first stage is a sense of need; the second, an effort to satisfy that need; and third, to discover that we can find peace only through Jesus and that through the redemption on the cross."

He continued, "A bad man or woman can not be a good man or woman with a cursed conscience. They can not be cleansed by a soft thought of the mercy of God, or a self promise of purer days to come. Though your sins be as scarlet, He can make them like snow. Then being justified by Faith we have peace with God. No man or woman is as clean as he once was, who has a vulgar or mean thought. They would give worlds, if they had them to give if they have sinned, to be as clean as they once were. We all need sins forgiven and we can pray the prayer of the publican, 'God be merciful to me a sinner,' and 'He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins.' Morality is an attribute to christianity but it is not christianity."

HIGH SCHOOL REFLECTOR

GINGS SCHOOL

The Oratorical contest was held last Friday night at the Gings school. There were five contestants. Clara Cortner was given first place, Helen Kennedy and Adrian Eckart, tying for second place; Clyde Gordon, fourth, and Robert Myer, fifth. The winner will be presented with a medal.

One pupil has been missed very much this week at school, Miss Naomi Nash, the Rush county representative in the Junior Legislature at Indianapolis. We would all have liked to visit the legislature this last week. We are expecting important laws to be passed. The Rush county representative was runner up in the race for minority floor leader in a caucus of that body and was elected caucus chairman for her party. She also was selected by the minority nominee for speaker, Dallas Burruss of Indianapolis, to make his nomination speech from the floor of the house.

She had three measures to present to the legislature for action; one drawn up at the request of the Homer school and two drawn up at Gings.

We had a new principal Monday.

GINGS SCHOOL

Mrs. Stewart, as Mr. Sipe was absent.

The eighth grade has finished its history and is now working on history note books.

The domestic science girls of the seventh and eighth grades are progressing very rapidly. They have finished making aprons and are working on other things.

The Sopomores think they are better acquainted with Julius Caesar than they were last September, as they are almost through the third book.

CENTER SCHOOL

On Friday night, April 3, the grade and high school pupils will give a musical program at the Center church. Everyone is invited.

The attendance during the past two weeks has been very low as a number of the pupils are suffering from severe colds.

For opening exercises Thursday morning, Marshall Wilson read Mark Twain's essay on "Man;" Edward Reeves read "A Floating City," Mr. Landrus told some jokes and Miss Swart read a few poems from modern authors.

A number of the high school pupils enjoyed a birthday party at the home of Elsie Stoten on Monday night.

The Latin 1 Class is now making a study of dependent verbs and is on page 183 of the text book. The Caesar class is now translating Chapter 23, Book 111.

School will be held at both Center and Mays on Saturday, March 28, to make up time lost during the Thanksgiving vacation.

The Mother's club was very pleasantly entertained at the school on Friday afternoon. After the business meeting and the program, refreshments were served.
